

Responsible Purchasing Charter

Foreword

ALTEN's international development and position in the Engineering and Technology Consulting market gives us a responsibility towards all our stakeholders. Over the last few years, the Group has therefore integrated sustainable development into its growth strategy, so that all employees agree with and respect ALTEN's values: human capital development, engineering culture, profitable and sustainable growth.

The strategic thrusts of the Group's sustainable development approach have been aligned with these values, and are built on three pillars:

- A career fast-tracker employer;
- A stimulator of innovation;
- A responsible partner.

The Group is also committed to promote respect of this approach within its sphere of influence. By means of this Charter, ALTEN invites all of its suppliers and partners to join in and take action to implement a continuous improvement.

Responsible Purchasing Charter

ALTEN'S COMMITMENTS TOWARD SUPPLIERS

ALTEN undertakes to respect the 10 principles of the Global Compact, the Universal Declaration of Human Rights of the United Nations, the various conventions of the International Labour Organization and the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises.

ALTEN aims at working with the best suppliers in the marketplace, offering a high quality of service, contained costs but also innovative solutions.

When referencing or trading with current or potential suppliers and subcontractors, ALTEN is committed to a key principle based on partnership, ethic, loyalty and integrity.

ALTEN's procurement policy and practices ensure fair treatment, independence, fight against misappropriation, transparency in choices and decisions and ongoing improvement for mutual interest.

ALTEN is committed to act in compliance with regulations in effect, and to share these values and principles toward all its employees.

COMMITMENTS OF SUPPLIERS

By signing this Charter, ALTEN's suppliers must comply with the principles of the United Nations Global Compact and the International Labour Organization, and all prevailing national and international regulations. They undertake to devote the necessary means to ensure that they respect the principles set out in this Charter.

ALTEN Group suppliers will undertake to respect and promote international guidelines relating to Human Rights. In particular, they will ensure that they are not complicit in any breach of these fundamental rights.

Responsible Purchasing Charter

IMPLEMENTATION AND CONTINUOUS IMPROVMENT

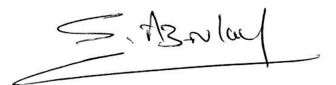

This Charter is an integral part of the General Procurement Terms and applies to all ALTEN Group suppliers. The Group aims at promoting social and environmental clauses. ALTEN asks its suppliers to highlight their sustainability actions, that should be considered as a competitive advantage.

ALTEN Group suppliers undertake to devote the necessary means to ensure that they respect the principles set out in this Charter, and to pass on these guidelines to their own service providers, including those operating in countries which have not signed up to the conventions of the International Labour Organization.

ALTEN reserves the right to conduct audits.

In the event of any practice in discordance with the principles stated in this Charter would be detected, ALTEN may ask the supplier to implement corrective actions or terminate without notice any trade relationship.
