Having reached more than 1000 consultants in Romania, ALTEN Group is opening a new office in Bucharest

With a solid foundation of operations in Romania, ALTEN Group inaugurated today, April 24, their new office in the latest non-residential project in the North of Bucharest, OREGON Park, a building that is environmentally friendly, well-located and has excellent transport connection, permitting easy access for its employees.

ALTEN is a deeply established worldwide group and has a strong commitment to invest in Romania. With its unique positioning, as a worldwide leader in engineering & technology consulting, its employees have the skills and capabilities to cover the whole development cycle and to offer a wide choice of service levels, from technology consulting to complete projects outsourcing.

“Since we started our operations in Romania, the high-quality of expertise delivered by the teams has proved to be excellent due to the technical skills of our consultants. Now, we consolidated our positioning, covering all technologies and delivering high-level engineering expertise to our clients, having more than 1000 consultants in 6 cities. Our intention is to keep this strong commitment and reach 1500 consultants within the next 2 or 3 years”, declared Simon Azoulay, CEO ALTEN.

Present in the Romanian market since 2006, ALTEN Group has reached 1000 consultants at the end of 2017. In October 2016, ALTEN Group has also acquired the local software company, Kepler-Rominfo. In the last two years, ALTEN strengthened and structured the lasting presence of the company in Romania, by opening new offices in Iasi – Nicolina Business Center and Bucharest – OREGON Park and Sema Parc. In OREGON Park the company will occupy 2600 sq. meters, in a space that has been designed to provide a combination of high specifications, efficient office space with focus on low energy consumption.

“The investment in the new office was a natural step for our company, as we take pride in investing into our local teams, starting with the hiring process, the continuous learning and development program with local and international trainers and by the evaluation process of all our employees through the career management system of ALTEN Group. In this way and through these investments, we can constantly support the innovative projects of our clients and here, in Romania, we are working on cutting-edge technologies in automotive, aeronautics and IT sectors.”, declared Axel Girardetti, Central & Eastern Europe Director ALTEN.
