

ALTEN acquires in-motion, strengthening its automotive expertise in Germany

Press release

Munich, Germany, 6 May 2026

ALTEN, a world leader in Engineering and IT Services, announces the acquisition of in-motion, a Munich-based technical specialist in the automotive sector.

For many years, in-motion has supported German premium OEMs across E/E development, software-defined vehicle (SDV) and validation, project management, and quality assurance. The company employs more than 250 people across Germany and Bosnia.

This acquisition strengthens ALTEN's capabilities in the field of software-defined vehicles, particularly in E/E system integration, diagnostics, and ECU validation, and reinforces its relationships with major German OEMs.

Daniel Grieger, Managing Director ALTEN in Germany: "With in-motion, we are gaining leading E/E expertise in integration, commissioning, and testing. Combined with ALTEN's international network and our strong AI capabilities, we are jointly in an excellent technical position for the software-defined vehicle of tomorrow."

Dominik Achten & Gregor Loew, Managing Directors in-motion: "Together with ALTEN, we are taking in-motion to the next level with more opportunities for our team, our customers, and our future development."
